This image displays a complex mosaic pattern composed of numerous small, square tiles. The tiles are primarily in three colors: dark charcoal grey, light grey, and a warm tan or gold. These tiles are arranged in a non-uniform, interlocking fashion. Interspersed among the solid-colored tiles are small, stylized motifs. These motifs include clusters of grapes, which appear in both dark and light grey, and various types of leaves, including oak and maple, rendered in both dark and light grey. The overall effect is a dense, textured surface with a repeating but non-periodic arrangement of colors and shapes.
